DEMOCRATIC

Banquet in Honor of Jefferson County Legislators.

Services in Last General Assembly—Com-mended—Optimistic Speeches—Praise For Hon. L. C. Owings.

The banquet given at the Seelbach Saturday night in honor of the Democratic Senators and Representatives from Louisville and Jefferson County was one of the most enjoyable Democratic love feasts that has been held in Louisville for many a day. The old-fashioned Democratic spirit was in the air and could be sniffed at every angle. Two hundred or more of Jefferson county's best-known Democrats were out on the banquet boards and they cheered to the echo every speech that was made and there were many.

Al M. Emmer, Sheriff of Jefferson county, was toasts master and he did his part of the programme in a most admirable manner. His introductory remarks in every instance were original and highly enjoyed by his listeners.

The editor of the Jeffersonian was honored by being invited to attend and he can assure we have seen the Democrats united as they are at this time. Representative Sam Roberts was the first speaker, and he was well received. Senator Mark Ryan and Representative Cosgrave followed. John C. Owings, representative from the 43rd district, was ill and could not be present. He was on the program to speak and sent his regards.

One of the speakers of the evening that received the greatest applause and one that was one of the best speakers was our Hon. L. C. Owings, representative from the county. He said it was both the time and the place that gave him profound pleasure to meet with his people; that "It is only a gathering of Demo-crats that can make such a showing as there is witnessed here to-night. All I want my constituents to say is that I was honest and stood ready to defend their interests. I congratulate you, my friends, on the great and able government that now exists before the people of Louisville and the people out in the state. Your representatives got about all that they asked. When that was over the case before? All I have to say, exercise the same judgment in selecting your representatives in the future as you did last fall and you will get what you want."

The speaker paid a high tribute to the stewardship of Senator Newcomb. There was much applause at the mention of Senator Newcomb. When he said that Senator Newcomb would fill a place in a National office the applause was deafening. Mr. Owings said his record was all that he could point to and he must stand or fall by it.

Senator Newcomb followed with a splendid address and was greeted with tremendous applause. He said:

"The First district may claim the highest record for the old guard and Jefferson county claim the old guard which never surrenders. The Democracy of Jefferson county is a re-united militant force. The victory of last fall proves it. Under the gallant leadership of W. O. Head, and others, we charged to the victory."

Senator Thos. A. Combs, Representative Wm. F. Klar, Mayor John Skain, of Lexington, were present and made fine speeches. They showed beyond a doubt that there was no longer any love lost between Louisville and Louisville, which had been manifest in the past, and they were all gratified of the change. Mayor Skain said Lexington had helped Louisville in the General Assembly to get almost everything it wanted, and that next Legislature he decided to go to Washington.

Quite a number of speakers at the special election, but for lack of space we will not call attention to them. It was evident that the Democrats are in earnest and that they have come to the conclusion that if they want to remain in power they must conduct themselves, not for the benefit of individuals, but for the good of the Commonwealth.

THE JEFFERSONIAN JEFFERSONTOWN, KY.

THURSDAY, APRIL 21, 1910.

On another page in this issue is a very interesting article by Miss A. Louise Babbage, of Cloverport, Ky., entitled "Kentucky Women Succeeding in Newspaper Work." We will shortly publish "What the Editors Are Doing," by Miss Babbage.

It was evident Monday night at the meeting of the Commercial Club that some of the charges our neighbors make concerning Jeffersontown are true. A proposition was to have come up for a vote that we can't afford to have a school, which would bring hundreds of dollars to the community—and there were about ten men present. The few that are now doing the boasting will not always do the work and let others sleep and dream. The speech Shakespeare said, "O sleep, thou art of death, for in thy quietness we find a quietness of the apos to sleep and let your town die, while other places all around us are awake to their best interests?"

We have found men, during our experience in the newspaper business, that would get angry because we did not stop their paper promptly at expiration, but last week in Jeffersontown was the first time that we have ever run across a man that was angry because we did not stop his paper. He scolded us for months and stopped his paper, after sending him notices that his subscription had expired and that we should be pleased to have him come in and renew or notify us that he wanted The Jeffersonian continuing. He going to tell him, "I will not trust you, and do not want to have anything to do with you," etc. This came from a man who, on several occasions, The Jeffersonian had befriended. Dear readers, we print this, not because we are angry, but because we are born and hurt, but to show you the importance of notifying us whether or not you want your paper stopped or continued at expiration.

On April 10 Prof. J. G. Crabbe gave up his duties as Superintendent of Public Instruction and took up his work at Richmond as president of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School. While Prof. Crabbe is taking a position that opens up a great field of usefulness, it is deeply regrettable that he has given up his post of State Superintendent, as he has been, without question, the best we have ever had. In speaking of leaving the office Prof. Crabbe says: "I have loved the work of the superintendency and have labored for the schools with all my strength, to go to the best result. You will find me yet and hereafter on the firing line battling for a general uplift of all Kentucky schools". These words came from a man who was speaking from the heart and who in his official duties demonstrated a high standard of character. No public ruler or ruler Prof. J. G. Crabbe is above politics. Hon. Elsworth Regentgen became State Superintendent, and he is spoken of by Prof. Crabbe as a worthy man, scholarly, experienced, successful, big hearted and level-headed. Here's to you, Prof. Crabbe, for the great work that Prof. Crabbe has started in the state.

SAD ACCIDENT

Resulting in the Death of Miss Rosa J. Smith at San Diego, California.

Fern Creek, April 18.—Miss Rosa J. Smith, who has made her home for the last five years in San Diego, Cal., but formerly of this place, was returning home about 7:30, accompanied by her little nephew, four years old, from a afternoon spent at the home of Henry Tyler, also of Fern Creek. The boy, who was taking a walk with his nephew's hat off, Miss Rosa made a grab for the hat, losing her balance and fell from the car. A physician was called and pronounced her injuries concussion of the brain and internal hemorrhage. As no one could get them the physician had her removed to the infirmary, where she died less than twenty-four hours.

As Miss Rosa was accustomed to taking her brother's children sightseeing and visiting with her, remains as long as it pleased her, no apprehension was made that the boy's home would not return that night.

The little nephew, who clung to his aunt, fell with her, but was picked up unharmed. A lady kindly took him home with her for the night. The next morning the child wanted to go to "Cousin Henry's" home and was sent out to her. She took him to the house, and it proved to be the place they had spent the afternoon. Miss Rosa is about forty-two years of age, a good Christian woman, and leaves behind a sister, Mrs. L. E. Tyler, of Portland, Ore., Tom Smith, of near Portland, Ore., Mrs. Nannie Peeton of Pulaski, Tenn., Sam Smith and Mrs. Louella Malott, of Louisville; Charlie Smith and Mrs. W. Bates, near Fern Creek.

The next morning the child wanted to go to "Cousin Henry's" home and was sent out to her. She took him to the house, and it proved to be the place they had spent the afternoon.

FLAG RAISING

To Take Place At Jeffersontown School Sunday May 1st—Interesting Program Being Prepared.

In the event of pleasant weather, the largest gathering of people that we have ever had will assemble here to witness the "Flag Raising" on Sunday, May 1st at 2:30 p.m., at the Jeffersontown schoolhouse.

Mr. O. G. Crandall, Past Councilor of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, of Louisville Council No. 4, will make all the necessary arrangements for this important event.

The Council will present a Bible and a flag to the school and they have prepared an instructive and entertaining program for this occasion.

In view of Louisville's best talent, we will address the audience, the part of the program is yet incomplete, but we can safely state that some eminent speaker will be assigned to this duty.

The boy elocutionist, Master Roy

Reynolds, who has won many contests over pupils older than himself, has been requested to assist.

He is a pupil of the Parkland school and will not only interest school children but adults as well.

The Young Men's Musical Club, of Louisville, have kindly consented to furnish the musical part of the program.

This organization consists of twenty members and their part in the program will doubtless win the appreciation of all who may attend the service.

The children have been training and rehearsing the children in singing patriotic songs and they will have a very important part in the program as the flag is really for them.

A most cordial invitation is extended to "everybody." Trustees and parents of other districts are especially requested to be present.

Those "Better" Shoes

THE STOCK which goes into a shoe is most important, leather being the one ideal material.

The only reasons for "substitutes" must be cheapness. Cheapness never adds to quality, nor does the counterfeit equal the genuine. For that reason the all solid leather "Star Brand" is the proper shoe for you to wear. We will tell you exactly what it purports to be—is just what it is sold for and worth every cent it costs. The "Star" on the heel stands for these three essentials of shoe goodness—

OBSERVATIONS

Of The Comet's Tail To Be Made By Forecaster F. J. Walz.—What The Scientists Say.

When the great tail of Halley's comet sweeps the earth on May 18, Weather Forecaster Walz and his corps of scientists will be as busy as bees making observations and testing the effects of the sky wanderer on this planet and its atmosphere. Mr. Walz received lengthy instructions from Washington yesterday, indicating just what data he is to secure for the Weather Bureau.

The interest in the advent of the luminous stroller in space is daily growing and all sorts of theories are being advanced by scientists of more or less renown as to what will occur. Many have seized the opportunity for proclaiming that the deadly gases that are supposed to lurk in the tail will cause a universal anaesthesia that will end in all living creatures being put into a quiet but eternal slumber. Others assert that this is mere ca'nty howling and that nothing unusual will result from the phenomena.

On May 17 the comet will have reached the nearest point to the earth, and then it will be some twelve millions of miles away. The gigantic tail, which will be about 200 million of miles in length and always lashes away from the sun, will completely envelope the earth at this time and even the most conservative scientists are of the opinion that some unusual happenings may be expected. Just what this much-talked-of tail is, has not been decided, and the Government is therefore going to have all of its forecasters make observations during the time the comet will be closest to the earth.

Some are of the opinion that the tail is just an unthinkable thin gas; others that it is composed of small particles broken off from the head of the comet. The third belief is that the appearance of a tail following the revolving sphere is simply a disturbance in the ether caused by the passing of the comet.

Forecaster Walz said that on May 17 he will make observations as to the amount of moisture in the air, the precipitation, the nature of the clouds, the color of the sky, the intensity of the sun's rays, and, in fact, of any thing that would show that the comet was exerting any influence on the atmosphere of the earth. Mr. Walz places little credence in the reports that the comet or its tail will cause anything unusual to happen and says that those people who think that the comet is causing them to lose sleep probably will find relief for their insomnia in a little toddy taken before retiring.

Prayer Meeting.

Mr. Wm. T. Rankin, of Louisville, will be at the union prayer meeting Thursday night, April 28, at the Jeffersontown Lutheran church and will give a very interesting talk. Mr. J. W. Omer will be the leader. Subject for discussion will be "Judge Not;" scripture, Rom. 14; 13.

WANTED—All the young men of the town to spend their leisure hours playing billiards at my tables. No swearing or gambling is tolerated. Barber shop in connection. Fred Prell, Jeffersontown.

PRESTONIA.

April 18—Joseph Conn died at his home near here Sunday morning after a lingering illness of consumption. The funeral was held at Pennsylvania Run church Monday at 2 p. m. and the interment took place in the cemetery there. Mr. Conn is survived by his wife.

Mrs. A. L. Jackson has returned to her home near Smyrna, after a two weeks' visit with Mrs. John Gilmore.

Miss Lottie Loveless, of Louisville, spent several days recently with Mrs. C. L. Cooper.

Miss Niva Bell visited relatives near Okolona the first of the week.

Miss Kate Crumbacker has returned home after a visit to Mrs. Atcher.

Mrs. M. Reid is visiting in Louisville this week.

J. W. Kennedy is remodeling the residence of J. R. Cook. A room and two large porches will be added to it.

Mrs. Jake Link is very ill. Her sisters, Mrs. Wise and Mrs. Daugherty, of Bullitt county, have been called to her bedside.

Mrs. Marina Kelly continues very ill of muscular rheumatism.

Dr. and Mrs. Bailey have moved out to their summer home here.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCullough and Eld. Herbert Tinsley, of Fairview Christian church, were guests of Mr. L. J. Stivers and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Mills, Mr. Errett Mills and Miss Sarah Mills were entertained at dinner Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frederick.

Little Miss Elizabeth McCullough is spending this week in the city, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. John J. Luhr.

Misses Hallie and Mamie Robinson and Mamie Cary were guests of Mrs. L. J. Stivers Friday night.

Mrs. Will Spybey attended services at the Methodist church in Louisville Sunday and visited friends.

Horse Talk.

Farmers Home Journal: Mr. Hunter Mason, of Harrods Creek, is offering for sale a good individual, two years old, by Montgomery Chief, dam by Rex McDonald, that is unquestionably a show horse of class and quality. Mr. Mason is a business man—breeder of saddle horses proper and enjoys the latter "stunt" as a pleasure proposition solely; he has an elegant country residence at the above address, breeds only the representative types from fashionable blood lines and is known among his stock and bond clients as the Pier, cont Morgan of Louisville's Wall Street.

Judge Zack Clore, of Crestwood, reports the appearance of two Glenworth foals out of Blue Jeans mares, one of them a chestnut filly and the other a bay stud colt. In the language of the Judge they are "the two best individuals he ever bred." The Judge will be recognized as the "Father of the Confederacy Bill", the sweet singer of the Bluegrass and the only living he-male Patti that enjoys the proud and virgin distinction of ever bringing to tears by basso melody the democratic scions of Kentucky's legislature assembly.

FISHING PARTY

Spend Delightful Day On Floyd's Fork, But Have Scare From Large Snake.

Fisherville, April 18.—Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pittenger, Mrs. Ellen Nicholson, Mrs. Lee Curry, Misses Carrie, Caruth and Cleo Nicholson, Shirley Parfitt, Winfield and Buford Evans, Margaret Parfitt and Dale Pittenger spent a very delightful day on Floyd's Fork Saturday. Some excellent fish were landed. The day was voted one of the most enjoyable ever spent in every way regardless of the appearance of a monstrous snake late in the afternoon that caused a part of the party to climb the Fork cliff with such haste that they shall ever have fanciful visions of climbing the alps. "Of all glad words of tongue or pen, the gladdest are—What might have been."

FISHERVILLE.

April 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pittenger and son spent Sunday with relatives at Elk Creek.

Booker Reid and family, of Danville, were the guests of Mrs. Reid's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Beard, last week.

We are glad to see Mr. Steve Beard out again, after being confined to his room all winter.

Mrs. Mary Carpenter has returned after a several weeks stay in Florida.

J. B. Wilson, J. W. Letterley and J. B. Morde, of Louisville, and Miss Alice Gilliland were guests at "The Cedars" Sunday.

Mrs. Lee Curry spent Thursday with her mother, who is seriously ill at her home near Middletown.

Miss Cleo Nicholson has returned, after spending several weeks with relatives in Louisville.

Miss Margaret Parfitt Nicholson is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Ellen Nicholson.

Mrs. Alvin Burdon is the guest of relatives at Crestwood.

FERN CREEK.

April 18.—Mrs. Minnie Love visited relatives in New Albany recently.

Mrs. Reilla Wollet visited Mrs. Stella Shake Saturday.

Mr. Carl Moore was the guest of his brother, Mr. Otis Moore of Louisville, Sunday.

Those on the sick list are Mrs. Jeff Wollet, Miss Alberta Shake and Mrs. Annie Fester.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Shake entertained at their home Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ward, Misses Viola Ward, Ora Baker, Fannie Baker, Master Earland Raymond Ward, Mrs. Maud Glasser and Mrs. Minnie Love.

Mr. George Wollet and family, of Lyndon, visited Mr. Jeff Wollet Sunday.

Mrs. Susie Poff, of Louisville, is the guest of Mrs. Nannie Glasser.

A Tragic Wedding Ring.

A tragic story of a forgotten wedding ring is told in the "Lives of the Lindsays." He should have been at church when Colin Lindsay, the young Earl of Balcarres, was quietly eating his breakfast in nightgown and slippers. Reminded that Mauritia of Nassau was waiting for him at the altar, he hurried to church, but forgot the ring. A friend present gave him one, which he, without looking at, placed on the bride's finger. After the ceremony was over the countess glanced at her hand and beheld a grinning death's head on her ring. She fainted away, and the omen made such an impression on her that on recovering she declared she was destined to die within a year, a presentiment that probably brought about its own fulfillment, for in a few months the careless Colin was a widower.

The Old Way of Passing Bills.

A document found among the Duke of Rutland's papers at Belvoir castle throws a curious light upon the mode of getting private bills through the English house of commons in the days of King Charles II. The case in hand was the divorce bill of John Lord de Roos, an affair that caused a great deal of gossip in its day. One of his lordship's agents wrote in January, 1667: "On Wednesday last I got six and forty of the house of commons to the Dog tavern, in the palace yard at Westminster, when were present Mr. Attorney General and Mr. George Montagu. As soon as they had dined we carried them all to the house of commons, and they passed the bill, as the committee, without any amendments, and ordered it to be reported the next day."

News In Olden Times.

Not many minutes after a statesman has finished a speech nowadays the news is selling in the streets and has been flashed to every capital in Europe.

It was different in the elections in the time of Pitt. He made a memorable speech one March, and the eager public only learned exactly what he said from the Gentleman's Magazine of the following November.—London Saturday Review.

On the Wrong Back.

Charitable Lady—I gave your father the money to buy you a coat last week. I see you're not wearing it. Boy—No mun; 'e put it on a 'orse. Charitable Lady—On a horse? But he should have thought of your comfort before that of an animal.—Throne and Country

SHIVELY.

Mr. Will Windhorst and wife entertained a number of friends Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. John Hikes and daughter, Evelyn Lavinia, and Miss Lelia Clemens spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Nicholson.

Mrs. Fred Braun and son, William, attended a birthday party at Mrs. J. C. Fiscl's Tuesday.

Mrs. T. F. Nicholson and daughter, Miss Lillian, and niece, Miss Edna Nicholson, attended Macaulay's theater Wednesday evening to see "Sapho."

CHAPTER XX.

The sun was up yet up when Flory, out of bed, she gave Gladys and Nina each a vigorous shake to awaken them, then hastily dressing, she tripped down to the kitchen where Aunt Cleo was preparing the breakfast.

"Well, honey, honey, yo' is greetin' me," said Flory, seizing a large tin pie, "I see you, fo' dem plumb pet chickens is a peepin' mighty fo' to break fast."

"Aunt Cleo, 'an' right glad I is to see you, fo' dem plumb pet chickens is a peepin' mighty fo' to break fast."

"Mr. Gilman has been bathing his eyes in red pepper tea," said Flory, and, amid much laughter, she told them that the young man came to sell at your expense," said the farmer with a smile. "What pranks has she been playing so early in the morning, Mr. Gilman?"

"Mr. Gilman has been bathing his eyes in red pepper tea," said Flory, and, amid much laughter, she told them that the young man came to sell at your expense," said the farmer with a smile. "What pranks has she been playing so early in the morning, Mr. Gilman?"

"Dear Sister Marie—Dr. Shetland has ordered me to go to Europe for the benefit of my health. I wish you to allow one of the girls to go with him, as I have heard that Nina and Gladys are out of school, a trip to Europe would benefit either of them."

I do not wish to go alone, and if you will allow one of the girls to go, I will furnish her wardrobe, maid and chamber maid."

Do not you make preparations, but let one of them come to me next week, as I wish to sail within a fortnight on the Queen Ocean.

As you know, we have distant relatives in Paris, and I shall make my headquarters there.

Your loving sister,

Belle.

When Mrs. Hazelton had finished reading these words, she said to herself, "What a joyful note from Mr. Gilman!"

She was about to open the door, when she heard a noise.

"Oh, mamma, let me go! I want to go to Europe!"

Flory, knowing that Mrs. Hazelton was coming home, and shaking her head vigorously.

"Do get off me, you little fool!"

Flory was quite unconscious that she was being observed by a pair of male eyes. They were regarding her intently, and she had just passed the picket fence that divided the yard from the garden. Iarn Gilman was taking in the pretty domestic picture with all of an artist's interest.

He had risen early, and if you will be a good boy, he will return within the year. I want to see you all and tell you good-bye, but I have so many matters to attend to that it will be impossible for me to visit you. But come if you can to see me before I leave for Philadelphia.

When Mrs. Hazelton had finished reading these words, she said to herself, "What a joyful note from Mr. Gilman!"

She was about to open the door, when she heard a noise.

"Oh, mamma, let me go! I want to go to Europe!"

Flory, knowing that Mrs. Hazelton

was coming home, and shaking her head vigorously.

"Do get off me, you little fool!"

Flory was quite unconscious that she was being observed by a pair of male eyes. They were regarding her intently, and she had just passed the picket fence that divided the yard from the garden. Iarn Gilman was taking in the pretty domestic picture with all of an artist's interest.

He had risen early, and if you will be a good boy, he will return within the year. I want to see you all and tell you good-bye, but I have so many matters to attend to that it will be impossible for me to visit you. But come if you can to see me before I leave for Philadelphia.

Please write immediately and let me know your decision.

Your loving sister,

Belle.

THOS. W. BULLITT

The loss to our city; our state; our country; but an irreparable loss to the Louisville Bar; we say a loss to our city, because they live with, and are identified with us; because they knew they were known throughout the state, and influenced State Government—to our country, because, the wavelets of their acts extending to its boundaries and influenced conditions everywhere,—to the bar, because they were identified with the profession; that lives were a reproach of trickery of courts, and legislative frauds.

Nine months ago, (June 21, 1909),
Judge Emmet Field died in his court room. He fell as he would have while in the course of his duty. On March 3rd, 1910, our esteemed and distinguished citizen, Thos. W. Bullitt, who left Louisville in vigorous health, died suddenly at Baltimore, Md., in his seventy second year. Both men were sterling characters; stalwarts to the core; typical of the great common people, typical citizens of a great State of a great republic. Both were veterans in the "lost cause."

The veterans are crossing the river, one by one, like the taps of the drum. It is true that they are surely crossing "eternity" crossing, each in his turn, and will until the last one has crossed over "to rest under the trees."

AN APPRECIATION.

BY BEN F. ALFORD.

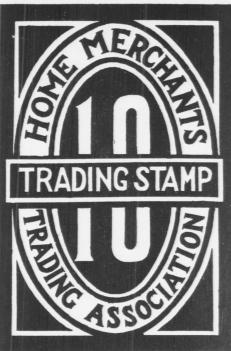

Within that rugged form there dwelt
A man, whose worth the public felt;
One of full stature, weight and girth,
A man of great strength, and a man of great
Unscrupulous by wrong known to fraud,
And by the vicious threats known to Conscious of right he promptly smote "the soft spot."

But some are portent—dull seem smart,
Lie like a silent, silent, silent ghost;

Like a silent, silent, silent, silent ghost;

A Combined Bargain and Trading Stamp Sale

This is certainly a great combination, a chance for you to fill your Green Trading Stamp Book--that last one that you just have half filled--and at the same time secure good, genuine bargains. The goods offered at this sale are Spring goods from this season, which you can wear right now and for the coming six months. You can always secure the best values for your money at our store. Why carry your money down town, spend your car fare, and then pay more for an article or for goods than we charge you? Why, the stores down town have made their great fortunes from people paying them such enormous profits, but now a great many people of this town are realizing their mistake and come to us. That's the reason we are always so busy and our store is always crowded.

We are content to make a reasonable profit. We don't want a fortune like Rockefeller, because we would be in the same fix that he is—we couldn't give it all away, no matter how hard we tried—and it's such hard work to give away money. Now, if you will come over to this sale you will make money by what you save by buying from us.

MILLINERY.

In this department we can please you, bring to your face that radiant smile, which will make your husband or sweetheart happy and cheerful. When you wear one of our new Spring Millinery Creations you will look so handsome and pretty that your husband will be waiting for you at the door, with his arms extended to greet you. Don't try to get along with your last year's hat, when all your friends have new hats. Don't be outclassed; you only live once, and then, why worry and fret and make yourself miserable by wearing an old faded hat when you can buy one from us at such a reasonable figure—one that comes within the means of your pocket book and your husband's earning capacity. Of course, if you intend to go down town and buy a hat, we can't blame your husband from kicking, because it will cost perhaps several week's wages, for the same hat that we will sell you at a very low and reasonable figure, and besides we give you trading stamps with the hat. Therefore come over some afternoon, try on a half a dozen new hats, select the one you like, and if they don't please you we will make up for you what will please you.

Our shoe department offers you exceptional values and extra beside this double trading stamps on the following:

Kentucky Women Succeeding in Newspaper Work

By A. Louise Babbage

Arthur Brisbane, the highest salaried newspaper man in America, who spoke before the Chicago's Woman's club in 1900, declared that "the press is the greatest thing in the world." Not even love had he held as an exception. Simply because journalists itself is just a big bundle of love, and the love of the press is the only profession that has advanced into the waste basket. This has proven true in the careers of Kentucky women who are succeeding in newspaper work to-day.

Especially in the experiences of Mrs. Daisy Fitzgerald Ayers, a Kentuckian, now engaged in newspaper work. She has written for newspapers more love than words as a correspondent for the seven largest papers in seven other states besides Kentucky. Mrs. Ayers is the author of "The Kentucky Girl," a column in the Louisville Journal, and connects with the Washington Post. Mrs. Ayers was reared in the newspaper home of Lexington and she has been writing ever since she was a school girl. She has written for the Courier Journal, the Courier Journal in Washington, D. C., and for the New York publications. She is the author of "The Kentucky Girl," who can be found at Mrs. R. H. Fitzhugh, who can be found at the Blue Grass capital from Virginia, the "girl of the Pennyrile."

In the Breckinridge County, Miss. Eva McFarland, and Miss Mary McFarland are bright young women who are making more than pin money by corresponding for The Breckinridge News and The Post and Courier Leader. Miss McFarland is a writer for the Louisville News from Lexington and Miss Davis is representative for The Leader at Clermont. They are paid well for their work, and the two girls have not been written for as a newspaper before she took up the work for The News and the way she learned to write is typical of the girl who wants to learn reporting. She clipped reports from the death daily occurrences from different papers and by these learned to write the news happenings of Lexington. Coxey, and the most remarkable young girl, Miss Mary Jackson, who has been in Mr. Babbage's office nearly six years and she began work when she was seventeen years old. When the local editor got off duty, she can write the news matter with perfect ease, although her regular duties are confined to the printing of the news.

Writers of Central Kentucky. At Lexington are five young women who have attained journalistic accomplishments and whose efforts have been rewarded but two months from the office in that time. Miss Bryan is an associate editor of the Lexington Leader belonging to the Lexington Chapter of the D. A. R., the Woman's Club of Central Kentucky and the Fision Club of Louisville.

Miss Bunting is society editor for the Lexington Herald. She has been with that paper thirteen years and has never missed but two months from the office in that time. Miss Bryan is an associate editor of the Lexington Leader belonging to the Lexington Chapter of the D. A. R., the Woman's Club of Central Kentucky and the Fision Club of Louisville.

Miss Bunting is society editor of the Lexington Herald. She is the daughter of the well-known lawyer, George W. Bunting, who has written many books and pamphlets and one of the most successful bankers in the South.

Miss Ralston has been with Mrs. J. Tandy Hughes, the society editor and managing syndicated articles. She has written many charming articles and travels abroad have added a particular interest to her writings.

Mrs. Elizabeth Franklin, whose husband is editor of The Lexington Herald, is a most efficient newspaper woman, although in the last year she has devoted most of her time to the education of her school age son, her present leader. She is chairman of the Executive Committee of Kentucky Women's Club and has done some valuable work. Mrs. Breckinridge is a granddaughter of Henry Clay and carries his oratorical powers. Before her marriage she was Miss Madeline McDowell.

Local Newspaper Relations.

Miss Katherine Bumford, Murrell is a talented young woman and represents the Louisville Times at Columbia. Miss Murrell is the niece of J. E. Bumford, who participated with the Adair County News. Her father, the late C. H. Murrell, was a representative for that paper ten years.

Ambitious young newspaper girls in New Haven are Miss Camilla Rappold and Miss Felicia Hagan, correspondents for The Louisville Journal. Miss Rappold is the widow of John A. Barry, editor of The New Haven Echo.

Miss Stella Moore, of Elizabethtown, was born for The New Haven Journal, and was educated by her brother, Mrs. Moore, one of the best known members of the Kentucky Press Association.

Mrs. Reeler is a young newspaper artist of Louisville.

The Courier-Journal's special correspondent at Frankfort is Mrs. Ella Hutchison Ellwanger, who has not only made a name for herself in journalism, but is now being recognized as one of the most brilliant young women in the State. Nine years she has been connected with the Kentucky State Journal, and two months ago she severed her connection with that paper to enter upon her time writing articles for New York publications. It is said that Mrs. Ellwanger is truly responsible for the handsome Frankfort Journal, and by her time there, she has advanced to the editorial department.

Their Competent Girls. Miss Betty L. Hubbard, of Hodgenville, and Miss Godey Perry, of Winchester, are making good on two of the leading papers in the state. Betty Hubbard, well, they are opinion leaders at Frankfort, Perry, who writes when she chooses and is "boss" of the Blue-Satin-String, the "girl of the Blue Grass" capital from Virginia.

Miss Lucy H. Hubbard, of Hodgenville, and Miss Godey Perry, of Winchester, are making good on two of the leading papers in the state. Betty Hubbard, well, they are opinion leaders at Frankfort, Perry, who writes when she chooses and is "boss" of the Blue-Satin-String, the "girl of the Blue Grass" capital from Virginia.

Successful Journalists. In Western Kentucky Mrs. Virginia Duncan has advanced a brilliant and successful career as a writer on the editorial staff of The Owensboro Messenger. And for the last five years she has also been dramatic and music critic for the Courier Journal.

She is chairman of the Executive Committee of Kentucky Women's Club and has done some valuable work. Mrs. Breckinridge is a granddaughter of Henry Clay and carries his oratorical powers. Before her marriage she was Miss Madeline McDowell.

Local Newspaper Relations.

Miss Katherine Bumford, Murrell is a talented young woman and represents the Louisville Times at Columbia. Miss Murrell is the niece of J. E. Bumford, who participated with the Adair County News. Her father, the late C. H. Murrell, was a representative for that paper ten years.

Ambitious young newspaper girls in New Haven are Miss Camilla Rappold and Miss Felicia Hagan, correspondents for The Louisville Journal. Miss Rappold is the widow of John A. Barry, editor of The New Haven Echo.

Miss Stella Moore, of Elizabethtown, was born for The New Haven Journal, and was educated by her brother, Mrs. Moore, one of the best known members of the Kentucky Press Association.

Mrs. Reeler is a young newspaper artist of Louisville.

A Good Example

"I am a good example," writes Mrs. R. L. Bell, of McAlester, Okla., of what Cardui will do for suffering women.

"I suffered with my head and back, for over six years, and although I tried everything, I never could anything, to do me any good, until I began to take Cardui.

"Cardui has surely helped me and built me up and I am so thankful that I have found something that will do me good. I feel so much stronger and better than I have in a long time."

It is well to make up your mind before you are sick what medicine you will take when you are sick.

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

You will be glad to take it when you are tired, miserable and when life seems a weary grind. It will put new thoughts into your head, fresh courage into your mind.

If not sick now, at least burn Cardui on to the pages of your memory, so that when you are sick you will ask for it without thinking.

If sick or weak, get a bottle today. At all druggists.

Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent free.
